Values of Ships Reported To Be Rapidly Falling; Coal Market in Wa'es Is Dead

The depressed state of the ocean freights markets in this country is matched by conditions prevailing in Great Britain. The best thing to be Great Britain. done is to lay up extensively and keep possible to fix at all (quite regardless of rate of freight) for prompt loading. "Owners are now met with a position requiring the most serious consideration. Are they going to incur a huge loss upon the outward business in the hope of recovering it upon the homeward freight? This would be merely speculating, for they may make a loss, and a very considerable one too, upon the round voyage.

Urged to Lay Up Tonnage "If they do not fix up a coal freight out, but elect to run in ballast to the United States or to the River Plate, they are in for a certain very heavy

"What are they to do with their tonnage this side wanting employment?
There is only one safe and prudent measure to adopt, and that is to lay the boats up, and keep them haid up, until the atmosphere is clearer—or in other words, until the storm has

"It is no earthly good for owners to try to hoodwink themselves into the belief that this sudden smashup is only temporary and that the next week or two will see the trouble all over. The trouble may not be over yet awhile and serious developments must be pro- Agu is almost everywhere in superabund-ance, but more especially from this side and also from the United States. This oversupply of boats cannot be wiped out in so many days or so many weeks; it may take months to adjust the position satisfactorily as between supply and demand.

British Outlook Gloomy

"In the mean time many new concerns will be in trouble and unable to meet their liabilities. Creditors will be round them like a swarm of wasps, the mortgages will want their money plua interest, the banks will want their overdrafts repaid, the store dealers will want to be paid, the government will want its 60 per cent excess profits duty, etc., etc. duty, etc., etc. "In the earlier part of this year, "In the earlier part of this year, when boats were making money, divistend of being lavishly distributed, instead of being earmarked for taxation liabilities and repayment of mortgages plus interest. We warned owners of new companies over and over again regarding this indiscretion, and now they find themselves in a tight corner from which not half of them will ever be able to extricate themselves.

"Values of tonnage meanwhile are rapidly falling; there are no buyers about at present though one possible purchaser we hear of is an owner who sold his fleet at $25 a ton dead weight, and is waiting in the hope of getting it back next year at about £6 a ton.

it back next year at about 16 a ton.
"The American market is in a wretched state, and no recovery appears wretched state, and no recovery appears possible yet awhite. Quite a number of steamers already chartered have missed their cancelling dites through the comb ned effects of the coal strike and bad weather, and have had to make the best of it and accept what was to be had, whether it would pay expenses on the voyage or otherwise, and a great many of the freights will certainly come under the latter category. Other steamers sent in ballast unfixed to Hampton Roads, etc., for orders have not improved or strengthened the situation, for the have fallen into the same plight, and most of the fixtures affected are of a most ruinous nature. "The coal market in Wales, so far as chartering is concerned, has completely collapsed. There is not an order left in the market for any destination."

DANCING INSTRUCTOR

Helene L. Sweney

School of Dancing

Theory Technique Expert instruction—specializing in modern and glide ballroom dancing. The Helene L. Swency method is very thorough, inspiring conflictence with first step taken. Particular attention is given to the correction of all faults, especially those common to beginners. A good dancer requires more than a knowledge of steps. Ease of manner and polse (also the art of leading for gentlemen) are indispensable. Private and class lessons day or evening.
